

Homework 5 for September 5 2008
Due Monday September 8th by 8AM
Physics 221 with Professor Jeff Terry

1. Have a pleasant weekend.

On this one, you were supposed to have a pleasant weekend. If you had a great weekend full of fun and adventure you got full credit. Of course, since this homework was not for a grade, full credit is still a 0.

2. Don't expect to get next weekend off!

If you expected to get next weekend off, you got a 0 for this question. Sorry, but I felt like it was easy enough and you either "got it" or you didn't. Then again, if you "got it" you still got a 0, since there were no points possible on the homework. Bizarrely enough, that means everyone got a 0/0. You may need advanced calculus to determine your letter grade for this assignment.
